Subject: RE: Moog v. Skyryse, No. 22-cv-187 (W.D.N.Y.)

Counsel:

We agree that all future discovery deadlines are vacated pending resolution of the Motion to Stay.

To be clear, all prior elapsed deadlines are not reopened as a result of the Court's orders. For example, the Parties' June 30 deadline to move to compel documents produced on June 2 is not reopened. Similarly, the Parties' deadlines to move to compel 7 days after previous supplemental productions were made is also not reopened.

Finally, to clarify, the vacatur does not impact the Parties' obligations to produce documents stored with iDS pursuant to the Inspection Protocol, Section IV.1.

Thank you,
Kazim

Subject: Moog v. Skyryse, No. 22-cv-187 (W.D.N.Y.)

Counsel:

Per the Court's Order (ECF No. 216) and the discussion during today's conference, we understand that all discovery deadlines have been vacated pending resolution of the individual defendants' motion to stay. This includes, for example:

- Today's deadline for any party to move to compel regarding any issues related to iDS discovery;
- Any deadlines for Moog to compel the production of documents from Skyryse or third parties;
- The 7-day deadline to move to compel relating to any supplemental productions (ECF No. 199);
- Any deadlines for Skyryse or third parties to respond or object to, or move to quash, pending document requests or subpoenas;

- The August 25th deadline to substantially complete expedited discovery, including all depositions (ECF No. 137);
- All briefing deadlines related to Moog's Motion for Preliminary Injunction (set at ECF No. 137); and
- Any and all other similar deadlines.

Please let us know immediately if you have a different understanding. We are happy to discuss.

Thanks,
Juli
